● As an Artist

I devote myself fully to every piece I create, from first sketch to final touch. Where detail matters and quality is never compromised.

● About Me

I am a Toronto-based visual artist working professionally since 2015. Drawing from a rich cultural background and significant international experience, my signature style merges realism, surrealism, and impressionism in both portraiture and conceptual compositions.

While my foundational practice is rooted in intricate graphite, pastel, and mixed media, my current focus explores expansive oil on canvas works. Since relocating to Canada in 2025, I have established my practice as the primary artist behind MoonArt Gallery and actively exhibit across Toronto's vibrant arts community.

Whether creating gallery-focused originals or bespoke commissions, my work is centered on the belief that fine art should feel both timeless and profoundly personal.
